ABOUT ME

My name is Tamiru, a disciplined Software Engineering student with a strong ambition to excel in the IT and Software field. Currently studying software engineering at Wolkite University. My passion lies in web development, machine learning, and artificial intelligence, which I have further enhanced through workplace skills acquired from competitive programming, web development challenges, and coding projects. As part of the development team, I am involved in designing and implementing responsive user interfaces, building RESTful APIs, and integrating frontend components with backend functionalities.

QUALIFICATION

B.sc. Degree in Software Engineering from Wolkite University with current cumulative GPA 3.58.
